Message From The President JOAN D'AMATO

Order Sons and Daughters of Italy

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I feel like Christopher Columbus. We are navigating on uncharted waters. Some days the seas are rough, some days it's smooth sailing. We think we know what is beyond the horizon, but we really can't be positive of what we will find. We look forward to the "new world" and its foreign ways. But we miss the "old world". We yearn for socializing, we miss breaking bread with our friends, and we long to attend Mass. We need to mourn at funerals and celebrate at weddings. This "new world" will be much different, but we will adjust.

Columbus chose his crew carefully. He had the best seamen and navigation at the time. By selecting quality staff, he was assuring success. You are our "crew" and each one of you brings something special to our Sons and Daughters of Italy. With you, we are assured of future success. We ask all of you to stay safe, as we are addressing this challenge month by month. We can't finalize when will meet because most venues are closed to large groups. As Columbus was concerned for the safety of his crew, for our Sgt Bonanno Lodge your health and safety are our main priority.

We are still in Phase One on the recovery of the COVID-19 virus. Your newsletter will keep us updated. If you have any ideas to share, please contact me. We plan our first ZOOM lodge meeting in September, we encourage you to attend.

If you have not acknowledged our donation letter, I ask that you think about sending something to ensure the continuing work in preserving your heritage and culture. As always, I am here for all of you.

Order Sons and Daughters of Italy

Cari Fratelli e Sorelle,

Mi sento come Cristoforo Colombo. Stiamo navigando su acque inesplorate. Alcuni giorni i mari sono agitati, altri giorni va tutto liscio. Pensiamo di sapere cosa c'è oltre l'orizzonte, ma non possiamo essere positivi di ciò che scopriremo. Non vediamo l'ora di vedere il "nuovo mondo" e le sue stranezze, ma ci manca il "vecchio mondo". Abbiamo desiderio di socializzare, ci manca l'occasione di sederci a tavola con i nostri amici, e abbiamo nostalgia di andare a messa. Abbiamo bisogno di piangere ai funerali e festeggiare i matrimoni. Questo "nuovo mondo" sarà molto diverso, ma ci adatteremo.

Colombo scelse attentamente il suo equipaggio. Aveva i migliori marinai e metodi di navigazione al momento. Selezionando il personale di qualità, stava assicurando il successo. Voi siete la nostra "squadra" e ognuno di voi porta qualcosa di speciale ai nostri Figli e Figlie d'Italia. Con voi, siamo certi del successo futuro. Chiediamo a tutti voi di stare al sicuro, poiché stiamo affrontando questa sfida mese dopo mese. Non possiamo finalizzare quando ci riuniremo perché la maggior parte delle sedi sono chiuse a manifestazioni di gruppi. Poiché Colombo era preoccupato per la sicurezza del suo equipaggio, per il nostro Sgt Bonanno Lodge la vostra salute e sicurezza sono la nostra priorità principale.

Siamo ancora nella prima fase sul recupero dal virus COVID-19. La nostra newsletter vi terrà aggiornati. Se avete qualche idea da condividere, vi prego di contattarmi. Abbiamo in programma la nostra prima riunione 'zoom' nel mese di settembre, vi incoraggiamo a partecipare.

Se non avete ancora preso atto della nostra lettera di donazione, vi chiedo di pensare a inviare qualcosa per garantire il lavoro continuo nel preservare il nostro patrimonio e la nostra cultura.

Come sempre, sono qui per tutti voi.

Please Pledge Your Support

Your lodge, The Sgt. Frederick M. Bonanno Lodge #2549, is a 501(c)(3) non-profit fraternal organization of the Sons and Daughters of Italy in America, which began 115 years ago.

We have been supporting our Italian Culture, our Community, Veterans programs and our Italian Heritage. Our lodge came into existence over 36 years ago. And since then, has grown and thrived thanks to our treasured membership.

Every quarter we donate to our charities: Alzheimer's, Autism, Cancer and Cooley's Anemia. We continue with our scholarship programs. We carry on with our plan of action to Save Columbus Day and expanding The Italian Language in our High Schools. All of these important tasks require reinforcement from the Italian Consulate, FAU, and other important institutions.

As with so many other fraternal organizations, we have suffered a major financial set back due to the Covid 19 virus. It has literally, shut down all our fundraising operations, and we don't really know when things will go back to "normal". However, we are determined to continue all our involvement with our charities and other programs without interruption.

I am, personally, asking for your support in the way of a tax-deductible donation. I know you probably get many solicitation letters, as I do, but we cannot let our movement to carry on our support cease because of this pandemic. A contribution, in any amount, will be appreciated and a great help.

Please make checks out to Sgt Bonanno Lodge #2549 and mail to the post Office Box below.

Thank you for your generosity and please send this letter to your family and friends. We greatly appreciate your assistance and call if you have any questions.

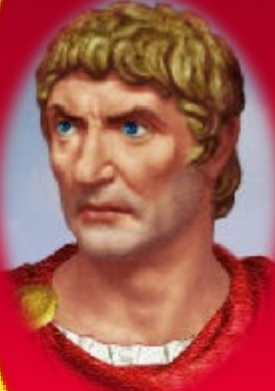

Fraternally Yours,

Joan D'Amato

OUR ITALIAN HERITAGE

Looking back a few short years, May 1, 2014, the Grand Lodge of Florida, Sons and Daughters of Italy in America, was instrumental with the passage of State Legislation. On this date, the Florida State Senate, by a vote of 40 to 0, passed Senate Resolution 720, whereby "EACH OCTOBER SHALL BE KNOWN AS ITALIAN AND ITALIAN AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH IN THE STATE OF FLORIDA".

October 2020, will be upon us before we know it. What are we, Americans of Italian heritage, preparing to do to celebrate the month of the great Italian navigator of the seas from Genoa, Cristoforo Colombo. Today, across America, there's a movement from cities across our great nation to remove Columbus Day as a National holiday and replace it with Indigenous People's Day. Sadly, this movement has made gains in succeeding to make this change. My Brothers and Sisters, it's time to stand up and be counted.

Now is the time to start planning ahead to put programs together for October. Seek to place displays in your local library. Visit your City or Town Mayor or Commissioners to seek a proclamation for Columbus Day. Take photos of your displays and proclamations. Visit your local newspapers and request to place articles and photos of each of these events.

We can't wait for the next one of us to get involved. WE are the next one. Let us move forward as one always remembering that we recall our past with pride, honor the present with joy, creating the future with hope.

FROM ITALIA

By Raffaele Guelli

ORIGIN OF SURNAMES

Historically, names have served as a fingerprint of life, perhaps a basic clue to one’s personality. The intriguing story of surnames dates back thousands of years. The oldest testimonies can be traced back to ancient China where, according to legend, the use of surnames began 3,000 years B.C. How and where they began, what they originally meant and their various spellings, is called the study of “onomastics”.

The Romans had three names in this order: Praenomen (given name), Nomen (gens or clan) and Cognomen (family name). During the early Middle Ages, people were referred to by a single given name. But gradually the custom of adding another name, to distinguish individuals, gained popularity. Certain distinct traits became commonly used as a part of this practice. For instance:

- The place of birth - Leonardo Da Vinci, St. Francis of Assisi;
- A descriptive characteristic - Lambert Le Tort (twisted);
- The person’s occupation: Pier Plowman;
- Or the use the father’s name: Leif Ericsson (the son of Eric).

By the 12th century, the use of a second name had become so widespread that in some places it was considered vulgar not to have one. The modern hereditary use of surnames is a practice that originated among the Venetians aristocracy in Italy about the 10th century. This custom soon spread throughout Europe. Beginning in the 15th and 16th centuries, family names gained in popularity in Poland and Russia. The Scandinavian countries, bound by their customs of using the father’s name as second name, didn’t begin using surnames until the 19th century. Turkey waited until 1933 when the government forced the practice on its people. Governments came to rely more on surnames for written records as it became necessary to identify individuals accurately. We can be certain that by 1450 most people, of whatever social rank, had a fixed, hereditary surname. This surname identified the family, provided a link with the family past, and would preserve its identity in the future. It became a matter of family pride. It was a cause of much regret if a man had no male descendants to whom he could pass on the surname he himself had inherited and had borne with pride.

The first permanent names were those of barons and landowners who derived their names from their manors, lands or fiefs but the practice trickled down to merchants and commoners.. Family names have come down to us in various ways. They may have grown out of a person surrounding or job, or the name of an ancestor. Mainly, all surnames evolved from the following four general sources:

- Location: Locational names were the first to become hereditary.
- Characteristics: Surnames from nicknames or descriptive traits are also of early origin.
- Occupation : Surnames taken from occupations came later.
- Patronymic: Those of patronymics/matronymic origin were the last to become hereditary.

Location (Geographical)

The John who lived over the hill became known as John Over-hill; the one who dwelled near a stream might be dubbed John Brook. Many locational surnames originated as place-names. You can tell it's a locational name if it ends with -hill, -ford, -wood, -brook, -well and so on.

Characteristic

An unusually small person might be labeled Small, Short, or Little. A large man might be named Longfellow, Large, or Long. Many persons having characteristics of a certain animal would be given the name Fox (if he was sly), Fish (if he was a good swimmer), Dove (if he was a quiet man), etc. Surnames that are the most fun, the most surprising and sometimes even embarrassing, are the characteristic names. However, please remember that the definition may have been applied to someone who lived centuries ago. Redd might have been a person with red hairs and White, a person with white complexion of hair.

Occupation

Someone by the name of John who was a local house builder, a food preparer, a grain grinder or a suit maker, would be named respectively: John Carpenter, John Cook, John Miller or John Taylor. The person who made barrels was called Cooper. The blacksmith was called Smith. Every village had its share of Smiths and the Smiths in one town weren't necessarily related to the Smiths in the next.

Patronymic (father's name)

Many of these surnames can be recognized by the suffix or termination 'son', such as Williamson, Jackson, etc. Some endings used by other countries to indicate 'son' are the following: Armenians used 'ian' (Kevorkian, son of Kervok), Danes and Norwegians used 'sen' (Rasmussen, son of Rasmus), Finns used 'nen' (Heikkinen, son of Heikki), Greeks used 'poulos' (Alexopoulos, son of Alex), Spaniards used 'ez' (Sanchez, son of Sancho), Portuguese used 's' (Rodrigues, son of Rodrigo), Russians used 'ov' (Ivanov, son of Ivan), 'off' (Romanoff, son of Romanus), and 'vich' (Petrovich, son of Petrus). The Poles used 'wski' (Piotrowski, son of Pieter).

Not only suffixes but there are prefixes denoting 'son'. The Welsh used 'Ap'. In Wales, David, the son of John tacked 'Ap' in front of his father's name, and David ApJohn was soon being called David Upjohn. The Scots used 'Mac' or 'Mc'. In Scotland, the descendants on an individual named Gilleain were known as MacGilleain and later shortened to MacLean or McLane and other versions. The Irish used 'O'. In Ireland, John O'Connor meant the son or grandson of Connor. The Normans used 'Fitz'. So, John, the son of Randolph became John Fitz-Randolph because 'fitz' means 'son of'. It comes to mind president Kennedy (JFK), whose middle name was Fitzgerald, his mother Rose's family name. Even though patronymic names have been in use a long time, many centuries ago they would change with every generation: William's son, John, would be known as John Williamson, while his son William would be named William Johnson.

[Next month: Italian surnames]

Teri and Nick Cantore

Terri and I have been Floridians for over 30 years and have enjoyed the many friendships and business professionals that we have met along the way. Our childhood experiences began in the central and the northern part of the country.

Terri grew up in Columbus, Ohio and was a true Ohio State Buckeye until her family moved to Florida in 1973. She attended the University of Florida and majored in accounting and upon graduation in 1983 she began her professional career. She worked for various financing /auto companies that included positions as controller, treasury manager and treasurer and included a 12 year term at Florida based Office Depot. She has three brothers all living in Florida and her heritage includes Irish and English. Terri likes swimming, skiing and traveling especially to Europe and Italy.

Nick grew up in New Brunswick, New Jersey and attended military high school which established a strong discipline and good work habits. Nick spent his summers at the Jersey Shore enjoying surfing, boating and crabbing in Seaside Heights and Point Pleasant. He has one brother and one sister living in Florida and one sister living in new jersey. His mother was of Irish descent and his dad was 100% Italian from Naples, Italy. Nick attended the University of Delaware and played college football while majoring in the college of business receiving a major in marketing and a minor in economics and upon graduation moved to Florida in 1973. Nick spent over 25 years in mortgage banking focusing on residential and commercial lending and the most recent 10 years in Financial Services and Planning.

Terri and Nick have one son that resides in Ft Myers, Fl and have been married for 26 years. They met in Ft Lauderdale at a famous waterfront restaurant in 1992 called Yesterdays.

Nick has been an active member in our Bonanno Lodge serving in various board capacities including President, currently on the Grand Lodge of Florida on various committees, most recently Second Vice President.
